

BIO: Jeanne Marie Antoinette is a graduate of Florida International University. Her academic background is in ancient history, theology and counseling. She is a single mother of two and for over twenty years, she served as a counselor and clairvoyant in South Florida. As a clairvoyant, she worked nationally, helping families, police and private detectives find missing and murdered children. In 1998, Jeanne Marie left South Florida and settled on the Treasure coast to begin her new career as a writer.

After writing several books, including Circle of Tears, When Angels Die, and Your Monkey Mind Connection, Jeanne Marie began working her magic as a screenwriter. In a recent review, by a New York Times Best Selling Author, Antoinette was dubbed, "a prolific author of books and screenplays, writing with conviction and a deft sense of style'.
